

Phonics Glossary

A phoneme is a unit of sound. We can write some phonemes in different ways. (ai, ay, ou, ow...)

When two or three single letter sounds are pushed together it is called a consonant blend. (fl, shr...)

A digraph is when two letters together make a sound. (ai, ee, ow...)

A trigraph is when three letters together make a sound.

A grapheme is the way in which a phoneme is written.

A split digraph is when a vowel sound is split up by another letter.

E.g cake

Phonics Glossary

A phoneme is a unit of sound. We can write some phonemes in different ways. (ai, ay, ou, ow...)

When two or three single letter sounds are pushed together it is called a consonant blend. (fl, shr...)

A digraph is when two letters together make a sound. (ai, ee, ow...)

A trigraph is when three letters together make a sound.

A grapheme is the way in which a phoneme is written.

A split digraph is when a vowel sound is split up by another letter.

E.g cake

